THROUGH THE EFFORTS OF MAYSVILLE'S BOARD OF TRADE!

Coupled with the co-operation of liberal-minded people who are not members of that body, various attractions will be offered in a few days in our city that will doubtless bring many visitors from this and adjoining counties. We are promised by the managers of the near-approaching Street Fair that many novel and interesting features will be presented.

"You'll come sure," and you are here combine a little business with pleasure. Such bargains as Hechinger at present is offering and selling rarely are obtained. It goes without saying that the qualities throughout the various lines in Hechinger's are the very best—no cheap clothing, no cheap shoes, no cheap furnishings, only the highest types of merchandise is handled in this store. BUT at prices that are warranted lower than you pay for inferior goods away from home. Hechinger's for many years has been, and is now,

THE HOME STORE.

Ask those who occasionally buy clothing away from home. They know. Again, we say we do not quote prices in our ads. You cannot quote clothing like other commodities, such as wheat, corn or cattle. Come and see what we have, examine qualities, learn prices, then look elsewhere; your judgment will lead you aright. During the Fair

MAKE OUR STORE ROOM HEADQUARTERS.

Among other liquids on hand we always have an abundance of ice water. The latter, like our clothing, you'll find the best in town. We will also take charge of your packages during your stay in town.

Mattings!

ECONOMICALLY PRICED!

Nothing more attractive has ever been shown in Mattings than our present stock. A great many new patterns, including some medium sized set figures, stripes and unique ideas that are purely Japanese. In the stronger colors popular taste seems to favor the blue, green, reds and browns, which we show in variety. There are infold novelties that will deserve the name. One of them has a double striped down the center and is shown in two colors. The Mikado is a very finely woven fabric with colored inserted figures, producing a striking two toned effect. The prices are from 12c. to 50c. We do not insult your intelligence by offering Mattings below 12c. It is money lost to buy under the 12c grade. Wise shoppers know quality to be an indispensable consideration in buying floor coverings and they come here where they are sure only the best is offered.

Cork Linoleum.

A cash transaction put these goods in our stock at the lowest price known. All are patent linoleum and wax pattern. While the last price was 45c. square yard instead of 75c. The $1 quality can be bought for 65c.

LOVING TRIBUTES.

Paid to the Memory of Mrs. Anna Albert Hodgins.

ROME PAPER TIES HER LIFE.

The following sketch is taken from The Rome (Ga.) Tribune of the death of Mrs. Anna Albert Hodgins, which occurred Sunday night, May 15th: A few minutes after midnight, and as the holy Sabbath yielded to rest more, the soul of Mrs. Charles Buckner Hodgins, wife of Hector Hodgins of St. Peter's Church, winged from earth to heaven.

In the serenity of the glowing summer night the summons came, and it found her ready. For days she had labored between the sky and the world beyond, trembling upon the very brink of life, and deep and earnest prayers went up from many hearts in Rome that this tender wife and mother might be spared.

So the Holy Father passed, and with the coming of the evening shadows that impalpable presence, Death. So very the hours died away so quietly and so peacefully, and with the ushering of another day, a spotless soul stood in the radiance of His face. No death in Rome has ever had so tender a companion of every one as has that of this beautiful Christian woman. In the very hour of her passing the physicians and nurses was tending and ripening into fruition, the Master's decree that she must go beyond proud mortal flesh to understand.

A deeper pity thrills the heart when the great children are remembered, the elder sister twelve and the youngest, two baby girls, three weeks old, in whose tiny bosoms the light of heaven. Precious little ones, we well may estimate the vast quantity which has befallen you.

Mrs. Hodgins was the loveliest, sweetest character, and during her thirteen years residence in Rome few there be who have not come to know, love and venerate this saintly woman, and during her hands and full heart. The sorrowing in all walks of life know her sympathy and her compassion.

Through her family duties were many, yet she was an invaluable and enthusiastic aid to her husband in his ministerial duties. Through her family duties were many, yet she was an invaluable and enthusiastic aid to her husband in his ministerial duties.

During the thirteen years of his Pastorate she was the most devoted and helpful wife, her married life was singularly happy. Perfect congeniality made perfect happiness.

Eight children blessed the union, six of them are living. A boy and a girl died in the great sorrow which her husband and she suffered in 1892; Buckner, aged 11; Florence, aged 5; Katherine, aged 3, and the twin girls, Frances and Doris, aged 2 and 1.

The funeral services will take place from St. Peter's Episcopal Church this morning at 10 o'clock. (owing to the fact that the Episcopal Convention is in session at Lexington, Ky.)

Edithally the same paper speaks in these loving words of this noble lady: A NOBLE MOTHER'S DEATH. Death is always sad, whether it comes to the tiny budding flower or to the ripened shoot. It seems that Rome has been smitten by the hand of the grim reaper in the last few days as seldom before. There are many homes in the city where the merciful visitation of the angel of death. The ways of Providence are inscrutable to us poor mortals.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION. C. and O. Engine No. 79 Lets Go Near the Roundhouse.

THE ENGINEER LOSES A LEG. Saturday night about 11 o'clock there occurred an explosion that made some of the older citizens think of the powder magazine horror some years ago.

It was the boiler of C. and O. engine No. 79, which pulls the Maysville Accommodation train on that road, and the explosion completely demolished the machine that but a few moments before had landed its train load of human freight safely at the C. and O. Station.

The engine had been in charge of Engineer Dan DeMarco and Fireman William Conwar, and upon the arrival of the train here it was turned over to Mr. A. L. Maddox, who is employed by the C. and O. at this point as night engineer.

After discharging the passengers that were to get off at the Depot the train pulled up to the Market street station to allow several others to get off, and then proceeded on over to the turntable in the L. and N. yards near the "roundhouse" to shift the train and turn the engine.

The work of making up the train was completed with the exception of turning the turntable and placing it in its position to take the train. The car was on the turntable, and the engine backed down and was coupled on to it.

Mr. Mark Brannon, yard fireman, got on the engine to set a package that was there for him and Colonel William Chard, car inspector, was standing alongside the cab of the engine talking to the men, and Mr. John Chard, brakeman on the train, was on the other side of the engine.

Suddenly there was a cracking, tearing roar, the firebox door was hurled open, striking Mr. Maddox on the leg, fracturing it in such a manner that it was impossible to set it, and it was amputated just below the knee yesterday afternoon, bleeding and cutting his face by flying glass from the windows and splintering open one of his hands, while Mr. Brannon's nose was broken and he was severely injured and bruised; Mr. Chard's face was terribly scratched by flying debris and his hat is still going.

The boiler had bursted immediately forward of the firebox, and so great was the force of the explosion that large portions of it were hurled quite a distance, the bell falling from a height of a residence on Forest avenue, several large pieces lighting on Healy's Hill, while an oil cup from one of the driving rods was picked up on Second street near Limestone; houses were shaken all over the Fifth Ward, windowpanes broken out and several narrow creases from falling iron were had in the immediate neighborhood, while the glass in the windows on the track alongside the engine was very nearly all broken out and the coaches scratched up.

The cause of the accident is not known, as there seemed to have been plenty of water in the boiler, while the boiler-oval was of the very best material.

The Covington wrecking crew arrived yesterday morning and removed the wreck, which will no doubt be consigned to the scrap-heap.

Had it occurred about fifteen minutes later it would have caught the morning L. and N. passenger train, and the casualties would have been great.

Mr. Maddox was removed to his home at Third and Lexington streets, where he was attended by the Company's surgeon, while the others injured were also taken care of by him and properly attended to.

Much regret is expressed over Mr. Maddox's injuries, as he is well liked by all who know him.

THERE WAS SHOOTING. The Pegleg Man Again Gets in His Work on His Antagonist.

There was a scarp and a shoot on the excursion that went from here to Portsmouth on the M. P. Wells yesterday.

When the boat was some distance above Vanceburg "Dutch" alias Henry Farwick got into a row with Charlie Foster, a colored seaman of the pegleg variety.

Farwick soon drew his gun and fired a shot into Foster's head.

Quickly the shake of a dead lamb's tail Foster took Farwick's gun from him and literally mopped up the deck of the boat with his bullet.

Fortunately neither party was seriously hurt.

If Mr. Farwick had taken THE LEADER'S recent advice he would have gone out of his way before he tackled a pegleg man.

UNCLE SAM AND GREATER AMERICA

The census of the United States will be taken in June, 1900, and it is hoped Maysville will secure an Enumerator who knows that 1,600 actual voters means a population of 8,000.

EX-SENATOR PEPPER, be of the whiff-kerries and Kansas, dropped to the Republican party because of his free-silver views, has returned to the Republican fold, regarding the money question as settled.

ALTHOUGH Senator DENROE has tried to create the impression that his candidate for Governor, Attorney General TAYLOR, is the choice of the Administration in Washington, such seems not to be the case. Collector SAM J. ROBERTS, who is beyond question the closest friend to President has in Kentucky, takes a somewhat different view in the following editorial in his paper, The Lexington Leader:

"The Leader regrets to note that one of the eminent candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor of Kentucky has been proclaimed as the official endorsed and recognized candidate of the National Administration and the Republican National Committee, the personal choice of President McKinley and his cabinet."

"Carried to its logical sequence, such a proclamation array the opposing candidates for Governor in antagonism to the National Administration, and brands as disloyal to President McKinley all Republicans who for personal or political reasons prefer some one else to the so-called 'Administration candidate.'"

"President McKinley and Chairman HAYES have conducted in the ability of Kentucky Republicans to nominate and elect a state ticket this year, and the Leader refuses to believe that they seek even a remote degree to control or influence the selection of a candidate for Governor."

"Auditor S. B. STONE, Attorney General W. B. TAYLOR and Judge C. T. PEPPER, who now seem to make up the bulk of the Republican candidates for Governor, are all honorable, patriotic men, loyal to President McKinley and the National Administration, eminently qualified for the high office they seek and worthy of the support of every Republican in Kentucky."

"With a fair and open contest and a harmonious and satisfactory result, the nominees of the Lexington Convention, be TAYLOR, PEPPER or STONE, will lead the Republicans to victory in November, and the men who help to bring about such a glorious consummation will be deemed true friends of President McKinley and those who proclaim that one candidate represents the Administration and that the other candidates and their supporters are disloyal to the great National leader of the party."

"Shall we now, when party unity means so much, encourage further factional strife by creating an Administration party and forcing tens of thousands of loyal supporters of President McKinley into the attitude of disloyalty to him, simply to keep alive the personal controversies that have disrupted the party in Kentucky for the past four years?"

"The Leader's attitude is one of absolute fair play to all the candidates, regardless of personal preferences. They are all high-class men, and the nomination of either would be creditable to the party and an inspiration to the Republicans in the coming campaign."

"Let Republicans support their favorite with as much zeal and enthusiasm as they feel like putting into the contest, but in the name of harmony and in the hope of success let there be no division of the party into Administration and anti-Administration factions."

"The Administration has no candidate for Governor."

NEWS IN KENTUCKY.
 NOT A SHOT WAS FIRED.

Maj. Bryant Disputes Charges That Members of the 3d Kentucky Acted Badly, and Makes Counter-Charges.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 23.—Maj. J. M. Bryant, who arrived home last week with several detachments of the 3d Kentucky regiment, mustered out at Savannah, Ga., disputes the charge that the men acted badly en route home. He said Sunday morning:

"I have just received a letter from Col. Smith telling me that a soldier returning home on the section of the train with me fired off his pistol while passing out of Chattanooga, and that the shot killed a horse. I have made a thorough investigation and find that the statement is untrue."

"They never fired a gun while passing through any town or city, and their treatment of me was polite and respectful at all times. To show you that this statement is not exaggerated, while the boys have been badly treated by the officials of the Georgia & Alabama railroad, who gave us the meanest of second-class service, I will but refer to the condition of the cars bringing us here. The cars were dirty and worn out. The officials wanted us to go by the Louisville & Nashville, 300 or 500 miles out of our way, and because they were refused we were crowded into three musty coaches. The men protested against such treatment and, it is true, made a great many threats. These threats had their effect, too, for more cars were finally given us."

To Form a New Regiment.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., May 23.—A new regiment of state guards is to be formed at once. It is said Col. T. J. Smith, the old commander, will be re-elected colonel. Many of the old boys who saw service in Cuba have signified a willingness to join, but a great many others say they have had enough military experience to last them a life time. The regiment will ask to be called the 1st and hope not to be thrown down as the 1st by a change of number.

Crops Damaged by Rain.

RITTAWA, Ky., May 23.—The heavy rainfall in this section during the past few weeks has done considerable damage, especially to the farmers, who have been greatly delayed with their spring work, and but very little, if any, planting has been done. Only a small acreage of tobacco ground has been prepared, and unless there is a decrease in the rainfall the crop this year will be considerably less than that of 1898.

Steel Frame Work Fell.

NEWPORT, Ky., May 23.—The new car barn that is being erected at the corner of Eleventh and Brighton streets, gave way Sunday at noon and fell with a crash that could be heard for squares. The building is being erected by the Newport & Louisville Covington Street Railway Co., and is about 250 feet long, with 100 feet of roof arches built entirely of steel.

 The most remarkable term of the Circuit Court that ever sat in Lewis county adjourned Saturday morning. For the first time in the history of the county and probably in the history of the state a Circuit Court convened and adjourned without a single trial.
 Mr. Clark went out to the telegraph office, put himself in communication with Mr. Morgan, and Mr. Morgan went to the Bank of England in London, the manager sent word to the Plymouth branch manager, and that gentleman came personally to the Royal Hotel, and with his hat in his hand, begged to be permitted to paymaster Clark in any way that gentleman would suggest. The apparently pacified paymaster, followed by his clerk, accompanied the officer to the bank. The drafts were duly passed over and a large bundle of Bank of England notes placed before the paymaster.
 "What are these?" said Clark.
 "These are Bank of England notes."
 "Yes, I see they are notes signed by Frederick May, that the bank will pay bearer, etc. Well, I do not know Mr. May, and, of course, I do not know you. This paper may be good, but I have no assurance of that. It troubles you for the gold."
 The humiliated bank manager had to hunt it up and pay for the bank notes, and then to the boat in triumph. "I would have preferred part of this money in notes," he said, "but I couldn't refuse the chance of getting even."

THE CITY OF PARIS

American Line Steamer Struck an Outlying Ridge of the Manned and is Fast.

SHE RAN ASHORE IN A DENSE FOG.

Passengers to the Number of 380 Were Taken From the Paris by Life Boats and Tugs.

An Effort Was Made Sunday Afternoon by Three Tugs and a Small Hawser to Tow the Steamer Off—The Attempt Was Unsuccessful.

FALMOUTH, May 22.—The American line steamer Paris, Capt. Watkins, from Southampton and Charbourg for New York, struck on an outlying ridge of the Mannedale at Sunday morning at a point half a mile from the wrecked Atlantic transport liner Mohagan lies and five miles from Falmouth.

The Paris, which sailed for Southampton Saturday, called at Cherbourg and picked up 50 passengers. She left Cherbourg at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Soon after 1 o'clock Sunday morning at high tide and in a dense fog she ran ashore. From the first there was no danger. Life boats and tugs were soon literally swarming around the vessel to render assistance. A majority of the passengers, who numbered 380, were brought to Falmouth where they obtained lodging for the night.

Capt. Watkins reported that his ship was lying comfortably in smooth water and that there was no danger for any alarmist reports. He reported the passengers and crew all well. The first intimation of the vessel's striking the rocks was a slight rattling sound which was followed by a second and more pronounced shock. The lookout shouted that there was something looming ahead, but before then was time to reverse the engines the ship had come to rest on the rocks. 300 yards from the shore assistance was summoned by means of rockets and the coast guards promptly telephoned to the life-saving station for help.

A majority of the passengers were not aware that an accident had happened until they were called up by the steward. On reaching the deck they found the ship's launch perfectly useless for their reception. The sea was perfectly calm and the only discomfort that the passengers experienced was caused by the slight rain that was falling at the time. To the surprise of the crew of the sea the Paris could be managed with perfect safety. Perfect order prevailed aboard the vessel. Capt. Watkins stood on the bridge giving orders and his perfect self possession and calmness of demeanor had a reassuring effect upon the passengers. In accordance with the instructions of the captain the women and children were taken off the ship. Such perfect order was maintained that a passenger described the scene as simply a slow procession of women and children walking in single file to the beach.

At daybreak the position of the vessel could be better discerned. The brilliant Saint Anthony light at the entrance of Falmouth harbor cast a distinguished plainly through the misty rain and the still standing masts of the ill-fated Mohagan could be seen near by.

It is said that a Falmouth pilot boat showed a warning signal to the Paris, telling the captain that he would put the vessel on top of the Mohagan if he did not alter the course of the ship. The warning, however, was not heeded, and the Paris struck on a ridge to the westward of the Mannedale. It is suggested that this is only their second trip from Cherbourg to the officers of the Paris were not familiar with the course.

The crew of the Paris are still aboard the vessel. It is believed that the steamer has a large rock in her bottom in the forward part of the ship. The crew standing by her and will assist in an effort to get her off the rocks. Further details of the disaster show that when the vessel struck the crew were summoned on deck. The passengers upon appearing were met in the companion way with comforting words and assurances of their safety. Exceptional coolness was shown on all sides, the stewards distributing blankets and stimulants to all who desired them. Capt. Watkins had his gun lowered and roared away in order to ascertain his whereabouts. Three life boats, her engines having put her broadside on to the rocks. Happily the sea was smooth and there was no wind.

FALMOUTH, May 22.—An effort was made Sunday afternoon to tow the Paris off the rocks. Three tugs were engaged at full pressure with the steamer's steel hawsers, her own engines assisting for half an hour. The attempt was entirely unsuccessful, the steamer not budge an inch.

REBELS KILLED.

Capt. Frank's Gunboats 1 Sprayed the Insurgents Before San Luis on Satu day.

ARE HARASSSED BY SHARPSHOOTERS.

The Rebels, on the Appearance of San Kobbe's Expedition, Retreated Beyond Candaba.

Natives Who Had Assembled on the River Bank Crowded About the American With Expressions of Friendship—Flags Displayed.

MANILA, May 22.—Col. Kobbe's expedition up the Rio Grande river met with no resistance except at the outskirts of San Luis, where several hundred Filipinos were entrenched on the banks of the stream. The rebels retreated beyond Candaba and the gunboats steamed down the river, their Gatling guns upon the banks and dropping shells wherever uniforms appeared on the shore. The gunboats sprayed the insurgents before San Luis. After they had passed sharpshooters from the trees across the river, about a hundred yards distant, harassed the 17th infantry, which was followed by four companies of the 1st division. The members of one battalion laid on their faces in the road for a quarter of an hour trying to locate the enemy and return the fire. Two Americans were wounded.

The road wound close to the stream and was thickly settled. It was a picturesque march. Many groups of hundreds of natives were clustered under the trees on the opposite banks, displaying white shirts, towels, sheets, or anything white on poles. Some about of welcome to the Americans, but most of them maintained a sullen silence. An old man in a carriage met the troops two miles outside of the town. He said: "I have lived in England and I have told the people that the Americans are like the English and that they need not be afraid."

Capt. Frank, in command of the gunboats, landed before the troops arrived and met with a "Porto Rican" welcome. The natives who had assembled on the shore crowded about the Americans, with fawning expressions of friendship. Many groups were afraid that they would be massacred.

Capt. Grant quickly distributed the men from the gunboat La Guna de Bay to guard the town, and the natives were ordered to leave the river. The had taken refuge in the swamps to return. Hundreds of the natives there upon returned timely, a man with an improvised flag of truce flying from a bamboo pole preceding each party.

A Capuchin priest, one of the few whom Filipinos had not imprisoned, was found at Candaba. He said it was his duty to convince the natives that the Americans had not come to oppress them, as they believed their leaders, who had strongly impressed this belief upon them and who have been accused of massacring natives and Filipino victories. The walls of the towns were playacted with reports of the slaughter of Americans, hundreds of whom were said to have been taken prisoners.

As soon as Maj. Kobbe reached San Luis the natives rallied the insurgents' rice stores. All day a stream of half-naked people emerged from the store houses in the manner of ants, carrying to their homes with bags of rice on their heads.

On Thursday night a body of rebels returned to San Luis and burned part of the town. The rebels, however, with a signal corps party, engaged in running a telegraph line, was camped near the place. Maj. Kobbe sent the army gunboats Cavendish there and found the party Saturday in the town.

The R. Grande, since Maj. Kobbe started, has been the highway for the exodus of the natives and Saturday there is a continuous procession of thatched cottages, while flags, drifting down the river, and containing whole families of 20 to 30 persons, with their household goods and animals on board. Thousands of these boats have passed the army gunboats.

The Nebraska regiment marched from San Fernando to Calumpit, Saturday, for a 30-day rest. The regiment numbers about 1000 men, including engineers. Two of the companies are mere squads, and their battered canteens and shiny clothes show unmistakable marks of rough campaigning. But the soldiers are happy. Several of them dropped by the way from the heat, but when they boarded the special train at Calumpit, bound for Manila, they yelled like school boys and the other troops went to their stations and cheered heartily.

WANT AUTONOMY.

That is the Burden of the Talk of the Filipinos in Manila.

THE MONEYS LEADERS DESIRE PEACE.

On the Recommendation of President Schurman the Local Peace Party Has Started a Newspaper.

The Insurgent Commissioners and Their Families Spent Sunday Morning and Afternoon at the Philippine Association.

MANILA, May 22.—The United States Philippine commissioner has submitted to the Filipino commission a draft of the form of government. The president is preparing to establish according to this plan. A governor general will be appointed for the island, as will also be a cabinet and an advisory council to be elected by the people.

MANILA, May 22.—The Filipino commissioners, Gen. E. G. Foran, Dr. P. I. de la Cruz, Col. Alberto Llanera, Maj. Joseleta and Senor Graciano Gonzales, with their families, spent the day in visiting friends in Manila, and conferred with Senor Florentino Torres, Pablo Campino and Teodoro Yanes, the members of the local Filipino association, who will participate in the meetings with the American commissioners.

Senor Torres was a member of Aguinaldo's commission before the war. He opposes independence and favors autonomy and he has been most influential in persuading the followers of Aguinaldo to make the present advances.

Autonomy is the burden of the talk of the Filipinos, and it is thought that the kind they wish for would be little different from that of the United States. The American protectorate which they talked of before the war.

Senor Paterno, who has succeeded the treacherable Mabini as president of the Philippine revolution, is a student and writer of ability. He once drew up a plan of autonomy under Spain which the Spanish government promised to adopt, there then being a different feeling in the Philippines.

All the moneyed leaders of the insurrection see that it is hopeless and are anxious for peace. Those who want money think they may profit by harassing the American while long on. On the suggestion of Mr. Schurman, president of the American commission, the local Filipino peace party has started a newspaper.

MANILA, May 22.—The Filipino commissioners, who arrived here on Saturday to negotiate with the United States commissioners, held a conference Sunday morning with Messrs. Schurman, Worcester and Dewey. They say that they are without power to bind the so-called Filipino government in any particular and can only offer any resolution of the present negotiations to Aguinaldo.

FLOTSAM-JETSAM-LIGAN!

NEW NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Henry M. Stanley will go to Pomory tonight. Everything that is loaded at Pittsburgh will go out on this ship.

The Pittsburgh packet Queen City passed up Saturday night with a big trip of passengers. The City of Pittsburgh passed up Saturday afternoon from Louisville for Pittsburgh, she is now getting down to business on the run.

The record of the City of Louisville has been wasted of the state again by the City of Cincinnati. A new boat only five weeks old, sailing for fuel and a swift current to go sailing, ran from Louisville to Madison, 50 miles, in 3 hours, 12 minutes. The Louisville will have to hurry up.

The immense new model-barge which Captain Oscar Barrett is building at Madison is not like other model-barges—sharp at both ends—but in a good deal like a steamboat. It has a bow and a stern and can be hitched much more readily and safely than barges that are sharp at both ends, yet will run easily.

It is reported from Honolulu that just before the battleship Oregon sailed from that port for Manila the mascot pig Blanco, which was captured from the Spanish cruiser Cristobal Colon during the engagement of Santiago, was tenderly taken ashore in the sailing harbor. It seems that Blanco's hoofs were wearing off on the hard deck of the Oregon, and it was thought best to send the Spanish pig to the San Francisco Zoo.
